January 2018 issue

New reviews from Napa, Sonoma, Paso Robles and beyond

2015 EBERLE VINEYARD SELECTION CABERNET SAUVIGNON

Restrained given the intensity, with a complex web of dried berry, cedar, tobacco leaf and sage flavors. Approachable now, but ageworthy. Best from 2020 through 2030. — J.L.

2017 EBERLE VIOGNIER MILL ROAD VINEYARD

Ripe and expansive on the perfumed nose, displaying Meyer lemon, nectarine and melon aromas along with subtle floral and mineral overtones. Smooth and fleshy on the palate, offering juicy honeydew, peach and pear flavors and a bracing jolt of lemon zest on the back half.

2017 EBERLE ESTATE CHARDONNAY

Gary Eberle has been making wine for decades, having founded his eponymous estate in 1982. His experience shows in his wines, both this charm-filled Chardonnay and in his equally impressive Cabernet Sauvignon. With his 2017 Chardonnay he walks the line beautifully between delivering too little and too much. There's excellent concentration and depth without being over-the-top. Bright and lively acidity offsets the ever so subtle pineapple-like spiciness. This polished and well-priced wine would be great at the dinner table with sautéed scallops or a roasted chicken.

2016 EBERLE SYRAH STEINBECK VINEYARD

There's a tarry backbone to the nose of this bottling, but there's also ample blackberry fruit, peppercorn, roasted meat and crushed violet aromas. The palate is intense in more tar, meat and peppercorn avors, which result in a savory, medium-bodied mouthfeel. — M.K. Published 12/31/2018
